NEWS RELEASE

Cooney joins Golden Eagle Community Bank board

WOODSTOCK — Golden Eagle Community Bank recently announced the appointment of Kent Cooney to its board of directors.

Kent Cooney is a CPA and has been actively serving as a Director of Chicago Rivet & Manufacturing Co., Naperville, Illinois since 2004. Additionally, Kent has held the position of CFO of Belton Chalet, West Glacier, Montana since 1997, and is currently the general partner and business consultant with KHC LLP, Woodstock, Illinois.

He has previously served as Board Chairman and Director of Harris Bank – Woodstock from 1997 through 2009 as well as practiced as a CPA, Manager and Partner with McGladrey & Pullen from 1976 through 1997. Mr. Cooney is a graduate of the University of Illinois with a B.S. in Accounting and holds his CPA certificate with the State of Illinois.

Kent has been actively involved with many community organizations in Woodstock and McHenry County for many years. These organizations include but are not limited to the following: McHenry County Community Foundation, Woodstock and McHenry Area Chambers of Commerce and McHenry County Economic Development Corporation.

Our board is very pleased with the addition of Kent Cooney as a director of our bank's board. His accounting background and previous board experience with Harris Bank, along with his community involvement activities will fit and blend very well within our community bank culture and branding.
